Liberal Aims Are Outlined At Convention

WINNIPEG, May 30.—(CP)—Senator Whitford McL. Robertson of Halifax last night outlined the four basic liberal principles as winning the war, providing that there would never be another war, keeping Canada's national income at its highest level and distributing income fairly.

"It is not sufficient for you and I to take a negative attitude to this matter," he said. "We must make a positive stand if we are to have a permanent peace."

AGAINST SOCIALISM
Senator Robertson speaking to the national convention of young Liberals, said Canadians would be the last to adopt a socialist form of government because "it is absolutely contrary to their spirit and wishes."

"I cannot believe that the prospect of facing a future which contemplates our ordinary lives being controlled and dictated by an individual or group of individuals, can appeal to you."

Speaking of the peace conference which would inevitably follow the war he said Canada will attend as a virtual leader of the small nations.

"We can best speak the language of the small nations since in most of them are a small nation or nations, and yet we are in a position to exercise a great influence on the larger nations."

KING BEST DELIVERER
"The one who is best fitted to express Canada's viewpoint at this convention and the one whose prestige and influence would have the most effect is Prime Minister Mackenzie King."

Senator Robertson told the young delegates the Liberal party presented to the youth of Canada a great opportunity and a great challenge. "Make sure you are going to play your part and to play it well."

Tells of War In Far East
Japanese Will Crack Medically
Says Veteran Canadian Airman

OTTAWA, May 30.—(CP)—The Japanese will crack medically in the opinion of Flt. Lt. Tom Watson, R.C.A.F. fighter pilot who was the last man to fly out of Singapore.

In Ottawa yesterday for posting, the Yukon-born airman of Vernon, B.C., told a group of newsmen of the heroic losing fight put up by a small band of British and Canadian airmen providing scant cover for the ground forces falling back through Malay jungles to Singapore.

But despite the power of the early Japanese thrust, Watson said gathering Allied strength would have little difficulty in a show-down. "Just back from Australia," he said, "the trouble is we can't seem to meet them these days. When our boys arrive they aren't there. Their air strength also seems to be disappearing."

The Nazis claimed successful air attacks on Soviet supplies and rail stations in the areas of Shepetovka and Korosten.

Free Enterprise "Out" With C.C.F.
SASKATCHEWAN, May 30.—(CP)—The C.C.F. believe the natural and human resources of the nation should be devoted to producing the strongest, healthiest, noblest and happiest human beings, said Wm. Irvine, C.C.F. Alberta organizer. In an address here last night.

Mr. Irvine said the resources of the country now were lined up for production and that free private enterprise had disappeared through banking and co-ordination.

"The bankers and industrialists are saying they want to return to free enterprise, but it would be a return to the stupidities and lack of purpose which have characterized our economy."

"No nation is free unless the people own and control the resources by which they live. It cannot be a democracy where the main resources of the country are owned by 100 persons. It is a mockery without the 'de'."

Urges Lumbermen To Resume Work

PORTLAND, Ore., May 30.—(AP)—The Northwestern Council of Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union (A.F.L.) called upon all idle workers in the lumber industry last night to return to work at once.

Kenneth M. Davis, executive secretary, said approximately 20,000 A.F.L. men have left their jobs since the unauthorized walkouts from sawmills, logging camps and other lumber operations in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana started more than a week ago.

MURDER HEARING
Opens at Coast

VANCOUVER, May 30.—(CP)—Possibility that Albert Rea might be taken from his sickbed in hospital here to give evidence at the murder trial of Albert F. Barilla appeared in the testimony of Dr. R. D. Patton, police surgeon, in supreme court yesterday.

Rea suffered severe injuries when he fell from a power line outside the window of the Graycourt hotel shortly after a shooting in a ward which Wellington Wallace was killed. Barilla is charged with the shooting.

Barilla pleaded not guilty when his trial opened here yesterday. Dressed in flannel trousers and a brown pin-striped suit, he entered his plea in a cool, steady voice.

J. A. Campbell, crown prosecutor, said in his opening address that the shooting of Wallace came shortly after Barilla took flight from the scene of the shooting. Martin, Albert Rea and Fleurette Williams, occupants of adjoining hotel rooms, took part.

Barilla is represented by Stuart Henderson, 80, of Victoria, veteran British Columbia defence attorney.

Farm Labor Placements

The arrangement between the Dominion and the provinces for the allocation of farm labor worked well last year, and it is not strange that agreements are being signed for the present season. In wartime the control of manpower must rest with the federal authority. The supply has to be adjusted with consideration for the needs of the armed forces and the regions to which the widely varying needs of different areas and types of production. Only by co-operative action between the federal and provincial authorities can the present and sufficient labor supply be directed to the best advantage.

One thing is certain. However much food Canada may produce this year will not be too much. The demand of the Allied forces and in Allied and liberated countries will absorb all that we can spare and that can be transported to them without the comfort or convenience or profit of the people of the Dominion is involved in the distribution of farm labor so that the maximum amount of food may be produced. To handle this very difficult and vast problem there will need to be whole-hearted co-operation.

Too Late

Ten persons are dead as a result of the fire which swept through a dance hall at Hamilton, Ontario, last night. The police have closed four other places, and they will stay closed until satisfactory fire-prevention arrangements have been made. The fire was no more, but it broke out in any of these four closed establishments after the conflagration of last Wednesday night. It was before the fire department. The danger would in fact probably be less than before, because ordinary prudence on the part of proprietors, attendants and patrons would cause them to take measures to be taken. But the authorities are not taking chances, in which they are altogether right.

Why were not these safety alterations made before fire broke out in one of the faulty premises? Simply because the danger was not recognized, or not heeded. It took a tragedy to make the authorities sharpen official vigilance, as it so often does.

The moral is surely plain. The time to enforce protective law is before some one is killed or injured through the law being neglected. It should not cost a life, or several lives, to have fire-traps made safe—no civilians of speed have brought to book.

C.W.A.C. Needs Recruits

Five thousand women, it is announced, are required immediately by the Canadian Women's Army Corps to bring that useful organization up to requisite strength.

The new policy is to have an effect whereby members of the C.W.A.C. are to go into duty at the rear of every battle line. This expansion of service necessitates the present plan for more recruits.

It should not be necessary to emphasize the patriotic duty involved in the appeal. It has now been established beyond question that the women who are doing so are performing an exceedingly important function. That point was defined very clearly last autumn when at the general synod of the Church of England in Canada, the House of Bishops passed a resolution commending the women's services, not only for their value to Canada, but as a means of wholehearted discipline and training for the women themselves.

Certainly the experiences of these young women constitute an education. They get practical training and they receive good payments. They lead orderly and healthful lives. They not only see their own country but have an opportunity of seeing the countries overseas.

This call for recruits offers not only a duty but a privilege. No girl can do better for herself and her nation than by joining the C.W.A.C.

Immigration

Federles Minister Bertrand has been discussing, at a public meeting at Winnipeg, the question of Canadian immigration after the war. He does not expect to see very much and rather gave the impression of not being particularly interested in the matter.

It is to be hoped that the minister does not reflect the opinion of the cabinet. It is difficult to believe that he does. For surely the question of filling up this country with useful and able people will always constitute a major enterprise.

One trouble with Canada's past immigration policy is that they ended when the immigrant set foot on Canadian soil. That is where the Canadianizing feature of an immigration policy should begin. For the finest settlers in the world may soon become useless and even a danger if they are permitted to congregate into little isolated racial communities of their own and devote themselves to a career of sublimated nostalgia.

On the other hand, any healthy and intelligent immigrant can be made useful if it is mixed immediately with Canadians and made to feel that a transplanted foreigner, but a Canadian.

It is not difficult to secure immigrants. But it is difficult to Canadianize them.

when they get here. And that is what the ultimate purpose of an immigration policy should be.

Surely the Canadian cabinet does not, as Mr. Bertrand infers, regard that problem with indifference.

Just Cause for Pride

More than 100,000 airmen of the United Nations have been trained in schools of the Royal Canadian Air Force, and by the close of this year the R.C.A.F. alone will have 60,000 fully trained air-crew men.

Though some have become casualties, some are prisoners, some are serving elsewhere, the bulk of this great army of Allied fliers will be available for the all-out attack on Hitler's fortress, likely to open in the summer. The bulk of this army will be made up of the reports that on Sunday 60,000 planes hit enemy targets with more than 8000 tons of bombs, shot up railway trains and airfields, and strewn mines in enemy waters.

Remembering that the United States and Russia are training their own airmen, it is not surprising that wherever the Allied ground forces move against the fortress they will have full advantage of air coverage, as well as of the softening up of objectives by the power of a world scale not only beyond precedent but beyond conjecture of pre-war days.

Herr Goering thought he had accurately estimated the potentialities of air power and prepared to make full use of it. How short his plans fell of reality is obvious. The Luftwaffe, the German air force, is being destroyed from destruction. Applying a recent admission made by Dr. Goebbels, the German minister "did not know war was like this."

Canadians have a right to take pride in the contribution they have made to Allied air strength, in men and not less in training facilities without which that strength could not be comparable to what it actually is. Herr Goering's campaign of our air training system would make interesting reading.

Stormy Scene in Commons Before Member Withdraws His Remarks About Senate

OTTAWA, May 30.—(CP)—J. Francois Pouliot, Liberal member for Temiscouata constituency in Quebec, in a stormy scene in the Commons last night finally announced "yes" to the question of whether he made a complete withdrawal of statements he had made earlier about the Senate.

Defence Minister Ralston, acting government leader at Prime Minister Mackenzie King's request, said that he had not intended to discuss the matter in the Commons, but that he had been asked to do so.

Deputy Speaker Joseph Brant, chairman of the House of Commons, said at one point that unless a complete withdrawal was made, he would "name" Mr. Pouliot. This would mean the member would be named in the Commons.

Controversy Is Caused By New Cantor Song

NEW YORK, May 30.—(AP)—Eddie Cantor sang "We're Having a Baby" May 29 on a blue network program Sunday night, but the words of the controversial second chorus were changed at the request of network officials.

The comedian got into a controversy over the lyrics last week when he sang the song with Marlene on a National Broadcasting Company telecast from Philadelphia. Their voices were cut off the air during the second chorus on the ground the words were objectionable.

Cantor, although still protesting, said he agreed to the changes for the Blue "Hall of Fame" program Sunday night, but termed the objections "slight".

Ceiling Prices On Vegetables, Fruit Remain

OTTAWA, May 30.—(CP)—Finance Minister Halsey said yesterday in the Commons that the ceilings fixed by the prices board on this year's strawberry crop were "not designed to favor one province or another."

Mr. Halsey said that ceilings had to be placed on fruit and vegetables this year, because thousands of complaints were received last year when the prices of fruit and vegetables were left uncontrolled.

DISCUSSION ASKED
The minister spoke during a debate on the House adjournment to discuss the British Columbia berry marketing problems. Mr. Crux, a member of the House, asked Mr. Halsey whether the ceilings on fruit and vegetables were left uncontrolled.

request was found to be undesirable. In 1943 the prices on fruits and vegetables skyrocketed and we received complaints from all over the country that we had no price ceiling at all. People said that we were keeping down the cost of some things, but were allowing fruits and vegetables to go uncontrolled.

TEA, COFFEE HIGHER
Because of the increase in the fruit and vegetable prices last year it had been found necessary to allow restaurants to make an increased charge for tea and coffee served with meals. The House of Commons was to cover the rise in the prices of fruits and vegetables.

"We have reason to decide to impose a ceiling this year and we decided to impose it early so that the prices of fruits and vegetables would be affected," he said.

J. H. Blackmore, Social Credit house leader, suggested that a "well-placed" subsidy would solve the problem of ceilings on fruits and vegetables.

Protest Lay-Offs
VANCOUVER, May 30.—(CP)—One hundred shipwrights and joiners, who were on strike at Lapeere pier here, stopped work yesterday. Bert Smith, union leader, said that the men were protesting laying off of workers at the pier.

the Road Ahead...

Canadian Agriculture, giving as it has such abundant evidence in these days of prodigious needs, of stability to furnish ever-increasing quotas, is yet going to be faced with greater production programmes in the days following the liberation of the occupied territories of western Europe. There is perhaps no other single factor that so greatly assisted the Canadian farmer to accomplish such record achievements as that of modern machinery. United with the farmer, in the job of continuously improving and increasing the efficiency of his methods of production, is the implement Engineer. Massey-Harris, always a leader in the introduction of time and labor saving equipment, has made another notable advance with its self-propelled combine which has revolutionized harvesting methods.

The self-propelled principle introduced in the Massey-Harris Combine opens up a world of possibilities in the future trend of farm machines for the road ahead.

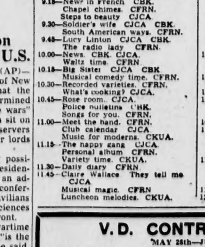

Dewey Against Future Isolation Policy for U.S.

HERSHBY, Pa., May 30.—(AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York declared last night that the American people are determined "to join in preventing future wars" and said "we must not again sit on the sidelines as mere observers and commentators" while war lords plot aggression.

Dewey, considered leading possibility for the Republican presidential nomination, said also in a press conference that he would press for the national conference of governors that civilians were "worried about inefficiency and bungling" on the home front.

The preservation of national unity in the post-war period "is the vital problem of our time," he said. His discussion of international affairs marked the second time in a month he had dwelt on foreign policy.
